

Jangro Mission Statement

The Jangro Network is one of the UK and Ireland's largest Independent Group of Janitorial suppliers whose aim is to become a world-class network.

We are committed to:

- Offering our customers quality, choice, training and technical support.
- Developing and expanding the Jangro range of professional products, supported by the most comprehensive package in our industry.
- Striving to provide our customers with consistent, competitive pricing nationally throughout the UK and Ireland.
- Offering customers dedicated account management, consolidated invoicing, tailored reporting systems and centralised point of contact.
- Providing modern technology systems by means of e-commerce websites, fully integrated training packages and social media networking.
- Striving to improve our contribution to all environmental issues in our industry.
- Continuing to expand our network of professional and high-quality like-minded distributors throughout the UK and Ireland.
- Ensuring our employees are rewarded, satisfied and safe at work.

Jangro Profile

The Jangro Network is an association of independent Janitorial Suppliers with a combined turnover of over £185m.

The Jangro Network meets the needs of, and provide benefits to, its members, allowing those companies to compete advantageously with all other organisations.

There are currently 46 member Companies throughout the United Kingdom, Ireland and the Isle of Man.

By combining the purchasing power of the network, each member company is able to compete effectively and efficiently for all national janitorial supply contracts.

With a fleet of over 450 vans and over 1 million sq. ft of combined warehouse space the Jangro Group are in an excellent position to service all our customer needs.

Shared promotions, knowledge and ideas enable every member to benefit significantly.

Key marketing initiatives, such as full-colour product catalogues, quality branding and packaging, interactive training and promotional videos, QR codes and product support guides, add confidence to truly first-class, quality products.

The Group is supported by a professional and efficient Head Office and a dynamic and proactive Group Development Committee. Through this structure we continue to go from strength to strength.
